THE UIL PROCESS

On March 6th and 7th, the Bastrop High School and Cedar Creek High School choirs will travel to Kyle to perform at the Hays CISD PAC for the UIL Concert & Sight-Reading evaluation. Here is a brief overview of what our choir students will experience at this event:

Concert: The first portion of the UIL evaluation is the concert presentation. Choirs present 3 prepared, memorized pieces for the judges on the Auditorium stage. Judges write comments on each piece as they listen and grade each choir on their vocal technique, musicality, and performance of their prepared pieces. Higher scores are given to choirs who showcase healthy singing practices while also telling the story of each piece.

Sight-Reading: The second portion of the UIL contest is the sight-reading evaluation. After choirs complete the concert portion of this event, they are escorted to the sight-reading room where they will be handed a brand new piece of choral music. Choirs have a total of 9 minutes to learn the new music and sing it through with minimal mistakes. During this time, choirs are not allowed to sing as they work through the sight-reading exercise. There are 2 readings of the sight-reading where choirs are allowed to sing; these readings are scored by the judges based on accuracy of the 1st read and improvement in the 2nd read.

Awards: Awards are given based on high composite scores from the 3 judges in each room. Choirs who receive a composite score of “1” (highest score) in the concert portion receive a plaque; choirs who receive an overall composite score of “1” (concert & sight-reading) are awarded Sweepstakes and go home with the UIL trophy!
